

Learning new skills

FIND OUT: Lisa MacGormac from Nova Partnership with Alex Braeger and Gill Price from Prospects.
Picture by Mark Cleveland

Learning new skills

MEET Southend's 'High Street heroes'. These locals are offering free advice about the thousands of courses available at the town's five main educational establishments.

Their kiosk, located between NatWest and Dorothy Perkins in the High Street, will be open until October.

Information about courses at South East Essex College, the University of Essex, Southend Community Action, the NOVA Partnership and Southend Adult Community College, is available under one roof at the 'one stop shop'.

The facility was opened by Jan Hodges, principal of South East Essex College. She said the kiosk was designed to make it as easy as possible for locals to access the information and added: "There is something for everyone and January is the best time to think about new beginnings and new challenges."

To find out more about the courses on offer, visit the kiosk on Tuesday, Wednesday or Friday, between 11.30am and 2pm and on Saturdays between 10am and 2pm.

Yellow Advertiser

Wednesday 28 January 2009