Student success celebrated at Prospects College

Awards night for building students

STUDENT success has been celebrated at Prospects College.

Thirty award-winning students were joined by friends, family and colleagues at two gala evenings at the college's Basildon campus.

The first winner of Big Brother, builder and TV personality, Craig Phillips, helped present the evening's entertainment and met the award winners.

Chris Young, 19, of Drake Road, Chafford Hundred, was named the Petroplus apprentice of the year and won advanced engineering apprentice of the year title.

He said: "Some lovely words were said from companies and tutors alike. The college is an asset to the community.

"I'd recommend Prospects. The amount they have done for me is second to none."
