

NEBOSH National General Certificate

Aim

The NEBOSH National General Certificate is a qualification designed to help those with health and safety responsibilities (e.g. managers, supervisors and employee representatives) to discharge more effectively their organisational duties and functions.

Objectives

Successful completion of this course will ensure that delegates:

- Understand the Health and Safety legal requirements which apply to business and the individual
- Can identify and manage risk in the workplace
- Can apply policy, systems and procedures to ensure high standards of Health and Safety practice

Target Audience

The NEBOSH National General Certificate provides the benchmark for Health and Safety competence in the workplace. The programme is designed to provide the greatest chance of success. The NEBOSH Certificate programme is a nationally recognised, exam based qualification for people who are involved in health and safety at work. Such people could include new supervisors with part-time responsibility for health and safety and safety representatives.
